A SLIPPERY MEMORY AND WHAT CAME OF IT.-Charles Rogers is unfortunate in having one of it.—Charles Rogers is unfortunate in having one of the poorest memories on record. He gets faces and names most wofully mixed up. It also appears that he is somewhat revengeful, and when these two failings are taken into account, it is not surprising that he comes to grief now and then. Yesterday such a mishap beful him.

Passing along De aware avenue, he espied a youth sitting upon a box, and engaged in the wearisome passime of "waiting for a bile." The boy had asked permission of the proper persons to cast his line in the waters thereabours, and as he spectred to be re-permission of the proper persons to cast his line in the waters thereabouts, and as he spucared to be respectable in his outfit and of a sober demeanor, this trifling tayor was not denied him Still, nobody appeared to know his name or antecedents. In this respect Charles Rogers thought he had an immense advantage over the loungers about the pier. He knew the boy, he was certain of it; there could be no possible mistage about it. He had seen the boy in Liverpool. Why that should have aroused his wrath it is impossible to say. Perhaps he had an o'd time grudge against this juvenile angler. If so, he could now take his revenge after a cool and deliberate isshion.

But Charles Rogers has a spice of carefulness in deliberate lashion.

But Char es Rogers has a spice of carefulness in his nature. It was barely possible he thought, that this might not be the boy whom he had seen in Laverpool. So he questioned the youth upon that point. The boy as ured his interlocutor that he had made a mistake; that he (Rogers) had never seen him (the histake; that he hoders) and hove seen in (the boy) in that locality. This denial touched Charles Rogers on his screet point, his failing memory. It likewise convinced him that he had made no mistake. So he called the boy a "liar," and forthwith picking him up by the seat of the pantaloons, he dropped him headforemost, but gently, into the Delaware.

The loungers about the pier not having seen the boy in Liverpool, and therefore having treasured up no grudge against him, attempted a rescue. To this Charles Rogers made violent objection, exclaiming:—"D—n him! let him drown." The boy was fished out, notwithstanding, and like a sensible boy, as he is proceeded at one to the office of Alderman. as he is, proceeded at once to the office of A derman Dougherty, and caused a warrant to be issued against his assailant

This was served by Officer Hawley, and when Charles Rogers was brought into the presence of the magistrate, he was terrified to find that it was necessary for him to give ball in the sum of $1500 to answer at Court for his fautastic proceedings.

ON A JAMBOREE.-Peter Brady, Thomas Brady, John Smith, Henry Ortz, and Oliver Fazeley are at supposed to have been sober on the "Fourth."
Yet they acted in a manner that was rather strange Yet they acted in a manner that was rather strange for men in their supposed condition. In the course of their tour about the town, they found themselves at a saloon in Furner's lane, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, kept by a German by the name of Montague.

• The proprietor was present, as well as his wife. Peter Brady and his compeers thought it would be rare sport to put these good people to some inconvenience. So they pitched in after the most approved fashion. Doors windows and hot house were fashion. Doors, windows and hot-house were demoished in a twinkling. It was what is commonly called "a regular smash." But this did not satisfy Peter Brady & Co. So they turned their attention to the proprietor and his wife, and also to a hired man who had appeared upon the scene. These three unfortunates were terribly bearing.

These three unfortunates were terribly beaten. and Mrs. Montague was dragged from the saloon to the gate, a distance of lorty yards or more, and there threatened with death. She was saved from this greater outrage by the timely interposition of a young lady, to whose expostulations the rioters per-

When news of the disturbance was carried to the When news of the disturbance was carried to the police station, Officers Aldrich and Walters were despatched to the scene and succeeded in arresting the whole gang. They were taken before Alderman Fitch, who held each of them in $2000 buil to answer at Court to the several charges of riot, assault and battery, and malicious mischief. It is to be hoped that Peter Brady & Co will obtain their just deserts.

Hor-Hor-Hor!-People sometimes talk about their blood boiling. If anybody has suc-ceeded in sweltering through yesterday and to-day without being forced to make such a confession, we should te highly gratified to know of the locality in which he bestowed himself. We should envy him, as we last night envied the man in the moon, who looked so "cool and comfortable" as he sat com-placently upon his mountain tops, with a broad grin upon his ample face. In short, these two days have been almost insuf-terably hot. To compare them with that vague and indefinite sphere called "Tophet" affords us but slight reliet. Although every one knows it has been fiery hot, we will give the quotations of Mercury, for the purpose of removing any doubts that may still linger in their mines.

Yesieroay, at 9 A. M., it stood at 89 degrees, at 12 M. it had ascended to 92 degrees, at 3 P. M. it wavered at 96 degrees, and at 6 P. M. it had suffered a slight fail, lodging at 94 degrees. To-day the opening was much more animated, the quotation at 9 A. M. being 94 degrees, but for some interview of the country of the state of the second of the s scrutable reason at 12 M. it had gone no higher.

Can it be that the mercury has effected a lodg-Can it be that the mercury has effected a lodg-ment at this point, and that we must stew and broil along, day and night, with 94 degrees in the shade?

It looks tike, and, what is worse, it reels like it.

A TOUR FOR THE DOG-DAYS .- Happy is he who can leave the city, even for a week or two.

COLTON DENTAL

ASSOCIATION.

AN AMUSING STORY By One who Visited the Colton Dental

Association.

"Alighting from the omnibus which has brought us u through Broadway's hurrying throng, which seem eve pursuing some mocking phantom that cludes their grasp. we ascend the marble steps of the 'Cooper Union.' It is 'all very fine' to enter this pleasant reception room, bu the studio beyond the folding doors-'ay, there's the rub!' But as the kindly face and pleasant voice of the Professor greet us, our errand seems shorn of halfits terrors. Yet we cannot forbear asking, as we present our credentials and look timidly up at the compassionate dark eyes so far above our own diminutive stature, 'Will it kill us?" A pleasant laugh and an assuring word couvince us that our time has not vet come; and we comply with the invitation to enter the operating room, with our two accompanying triends (the fair tace of one assumes the hue or driven snow), with very much the feeling that the fly accepted the proffered hospitality of the spider.

"Fre aware of it we are seatedlin the dreaded chair, engaged in a pleasant conversation. Suddenly we find a prop instructed between our laws, and the mouthplees of a villanous looking black bag between our lips. Two pair of hands, so gentle in their manipulations as to almost lead one to doubt their owners belonging to the mason line persuasion, hold our mouth upon the sipe that the mhalation of the gas may be more perfect, while the owners of the aforesaid hands speak gentle words or encouragement. The soft hand of a lady assistant is laid assuringly on our own, and we can almost feel the suppressed anxiety of the two beloved companions behind the chair. A buzzing sound, as of myriad swarms of bees! Anon comes floating by, in grand measures and long-drawn cadences, a sweet old triumphal hymn, such as those may sing who, having left all of earth behind them, enter into the glory of the Lord; and mingled with this a wild symphony of dashing waves, ringing their 'ceaseless never more.' Yet how strange! that last word of the hymn gave us a sight twitch, followed by two more, which partook of the nature of a strong yet paintess wrench. Your teeth are out, say three kind voices, But we have not come down yet to this sublunary world sufficiently to comprehend their meaning, until the assurance is repeated by one of the fami far voices behind the chair. We use a new being and leave at the feet of the kind operator fliteen moiars and incisors—a tribute to the greatest discovery of the age.

Many of these patients have written sentences opposite their names, the tollowing of which are specimens:

"Without the slightest pain—an uninterrupted dream.

"Ry a Foreign Minister of State.

"Came from Hudson—would come from England."

"Thought I was going up in the air, holding on to the tail of a kite."

"A good humbug, it a man can have his teeth drawn without knowing it."

"A boo utely did not know it was done till done."

"Twenty teeth extracted without the slightest pain, with one dose of grs."

"No more old tashtoned dentistry for me."

"My second operation with the gas—have tried ether—mostlearnestly recommend the Mitrous Oxide."

"Very pleasant dream."

"Was weak and norvous received no pain, but won-derivally refreshed afterwards."

"I endorse all written above."

"A great improvement in the barbarous art of dentistry."

"I should never have a tooth drawn without it."

"God bleas the inventor."

But it will be asked, does it destroy all pain? Is the gas pleasant to breathe? Does it leave any bad effects alterwards? Can a person with weak lungs or heart disease inhale it with satety? We answer it does destroy all pain; it is pleasant to breate—no bad effects, such as depression or reaction, follow; it is safe for those having weak lungs or heart disease. Indeed we have had fifty such patients tell us they felt better for a week giter inhaling the gas.

But what do the medical profession say of the gas?

But what do the medical profession say of the gas? The following letter from the distinguished surgeon, Dr. J. M. Carnochan, to Dr. Colton, speaks for Itsel: -No. 14 East Sixteenth street. New York, December 22, 1865.

To you is due the credit of reviving the use of this important agent in the practice of decitistry, after a lui of twenty-two years.

The value of a sale anasthetic agent, which can be used without anticipation of danger to the patient, is a great boon to suffering humanity and I have related thus minutely its a, tion in my own cases in the belief that it similar favorable results are met with by others, the nitrous exide gas will supersede all other anasthetics row in use.

TESTIMONY FROM DE GRISCOM.

New York, March 8, 1855.

Having a ccasion recently to undergo a minor surgical operation of much severity, I embraced the opportunity to try the anasthetic effect of nilrous oxide gas, administered by Dr. G. Q. COLTON. I found it perfectly satisfactory. I was put into a sound sleep in a few seconds, and remained so until the operation and drossing of the wound were completed. While looking for the incisions to begin, I found they had all been JOHN H. GRISCOM.

Physician to New York Hospital.

The degree of insensibility produced by the gas may be ferred from the following AMUSING INCIDENT.

A lady came to our office to have one tooth extracted, a fier examining the tooth, we administered the gas, and when she sell askeep the tooth was extracted. On waking she spit out the blood, and in a few minutes was asked to vacate the chair for another patient and take a seat at the take. Not offering to pay, we, as a genter reminder, asked her to add her name to our scroll. "Whr!" said the lady, when are you going to draw my tooth?" The tooth had been out ten minutes!

TESTIMONY FROM THE NEW YORK EVANGELIST.

"We are slow to believe in the efficacy of new remedies that are offered to the public, but the frequent testimony of clerymen and others of our acquaintance assures us that Dr. COLTON, whose office is in the Cooper Institute has at last found a means of extracting teeth absolutely wiffout pain.

"We think it a duty to publish this fact, which we give, not on our own experience, but on the testimony of men of high character and intelligence, who are utterly incapable of deception."

Our price for extracting is $2 for the first tooth, and $1 for each subsequent tooth. [6 12 tus9t

The current and deferred motion lists were then taken up and disposed of.

Court of Common Pleas—President Judge
Allison.—Judgments were entered in the following cases this morning, the opinion of the Court in each cases this morning, the opinion of the Court in each case being delivered by the President Judge:—
Simpson & Neall vs. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Exceptions to the award of a jury to assess damages for the taking of a wharf on the Delaware river by the Railroad Company. Exceptions sustained, and the report referred back to jury for reconsiders in Callaban vs. Callaban. Rule for divorce. Ordered that the Examiner's report be approved, but that the decree of divorce be not made until the two years have expired, in which time the husband can offer to take his wife back.

Wagner & De Haven. Rule to take off nonsuit displayed.

Luke J. Gaines' estate. Exceptions to Auditor's report. Exceptions to the doctor's claim sustained. The others dismissed. German Lutheran Congregation, Exceptions to Examiners' Report relative to the application of the Trustees for order to sell real estate of the corporathe corporation, and apply the proceeds to the corporation, and apply the proceeds to the erection of other church buildings and school houses. The property includes the burial ground on Eaghth street, between Race and Vine streets, the whole being valued at $180 000. The Court sustain the exceptions on the ground, that due notice of the meeting of the congregation to determine the question of calling the property was not given and tion of selling the property was not given, and the matter is therefore referred back to the congregation for their action, after due notice to the members.

A MYSTERY UNVEILED.

The Boad of a Murdered Man Preserved for Three Years, and then Brought into Court as Evidence to Establish its dentity—The Murderer Captured. From the Davenport (lowa) Gazette, June 28. In the Daily Gazette of Tuesday, May 12, 1863, we

In the Daily Gazette of Tuesday, May 12, 1863, we published the following:

'Hogmusia Munder in Powerfur County. Last Friday week two California emigeants, with a wagon and span of horses, stopped for the disht as the residence of a tarmer named wonath, for miles east of Brooklyn, Poweshelk county. The travelers stated that they were from Wisconsin. It soon became apparent that they were far from being as friendly with each offeras members of the same family should be, they were brothers from Wisconsin. It soon became apparent that they were far from being as friendly with each offeras members of the same family should be, they were brothers from Wisconsin. It soon became apparent that they were far from being as friendly with each offeras members of the same family should be, they went that they were they went to the sound of the elder brother. On Saturday morning they started on their journey, but not without quarrelings before they went. Mr Mouath, however, saw no more of them.

Last Thursday a woman residing a short distance west of hir. Monath, being on a search for a cow it as tract of timber about bair a mile from the residence of Mr. Monath, was attracted to a thicket by a surfosity to ascertain the cause of a bad smelt, as of doodying animal matter. On investigation she found the headless body of a man exposed oview. The neighbors were summoned, and while some went for the crouser and others for a coffin, two or three sat down on a log in sight of the body, but some distance off to avoid the smell. The attention of one was soon drawn to some flies gathering around a mass of leaves, eic Examining closely and removing the surface, he found a human head placed erect. He features unfinjured, and the like expression of countenance still rotained.

This Mr. Monath recognized as the younger of the two callfornia emigrams who had staid at his house nearity a week before. Further mivestigation revea ed the tact that on the saturday as the wide start had only the provide the major of the case of the head of the nation.

At this examination it was shown that rather more than three years ago Vincent left Cambridge with his cousin. Clafborne Showers, for the West and after an absence of two years or more returned alone, denying all knowledge of the whereabouts of Showers. It was snowledge of the whereabouts of Showers. It was claimed that the time of the separture from Cambridge corresponds so nearly with the date of the murder near Brooklyn as to leave intervening days enough to clilow for the journey from one point to the other. But the r all efficiency from one point to the other. But the r all efficiency was seen to lie in the identification of the murdered body. To meet this, Dr. Conway was in attendance, and in the crowded Court room, in the presence of several hundred persons who well knew young showers, that gentlemen opened a tin pall, the top of which was covered with black oll-cloth, closely the down, and to the astonishment and herror of the beholders, exhibited a human head, the perfect features of which were at once and positively identified by hundreds of persons as the countenance of Calborne Showers.

The evidence thus adduced could not be evaded, and The evidence thus address could not be evaluated and vincent was held to bail to await a requisition on Governor Ogicaby from Governor Stone Some surprise was expressed by citizens of 'bis State that murderer should be liberated on ball; but the laws of I linois provide that in case of murder where the proof of guilt is not clear and direct, ball shall be accupted.

POLITICAL MOVEMENTS.

OHIO.-The Congressional Convention of the Eighteenth (Cleveland) District will be held on Tuesday next. The contest between the present incumbent, Spalding, and R. C. Parsons is very energetic, and the Herald (Spalding) and Leader (Parsons) are filled with the discussion of the matter. It is a singular fact that the competitors were law partners until Mr. Spalding was elected to Congress, and, of course, held joint and amiable possession of the same office. Mr. Par-sons has had a valuable legislative experience, the reported confirmation of A. B. Sloanaker on and is entirely sound upon the questions of the day. Thaddeus Stevens has written a letter to the Leader, in layor of the renomination of Mr. Spalding. George H. Pendleton will pro-bably run as Democratic candidate for Congress in the First District.—Seven Democratic gentlemen declare their willingness to succeed Mr. Le Blond of the Fifth District .-There has been some opposition to the re-elec-tion of Gen. Gardeld in the Nineteenth District; but the Hon. Darius Caldwell having withdrawn, the field is left clear for Mr. Garfield.—General George W. Morgan, ex-Democratic candidate for the Governorship, is the nominee for Congress from the Thirteenth District, now represented by Columbus Delano.—At the Copperhead State Convention on the 28th ult., Vallandigham was the hero of the occasion, and as the N. Y. Tribune has before noted, congratulated his political associates that Andrew Johnson was with them. Vallaudigham offered to stump the State, but the managers rather thought that his efforts in that line had not been sufficiently effective here tofore to make a repetition desirable. Indiana.-The name of Schuyler Colfax is being urged for the successorship to the seat of Senator Henry S. Lane. At the Democratic Congressional Convention at Indianapolis, on the 28th, the Hon M. C. Kerr was renominated. The usual denunciation of Congress was indulged in. The Democrats and Johnson men of Indianapolis have coalesced in a county ticket. Two months hence it will not be necessary to make any such announcements. A Johnson Convention is called at Indianapolis July 19. Only "those who supported Lincoln and Johnson in 1864, and now support President Johnson's restoration policy, are invited to participate. The two candidates for Congress in the Third Indiana District, General Morton C. Hunter, of Bloomington (Union), and H. W. Harrington, of Madison, (Democrat), are jointly canvassing

WEST VIRGINIA.—The Copperhead State Convention will be held on the 22d of August, at Parkersburg. The Chairman of the Committee, in his call, is silly or designing enough to say that there is "danger that public meetings may be interrupted by violence." What he means, unless to provoke trouble where there is not the slightest foundation for his vague charge, the Union people of the State have not yet been able to discover. The Clarksburg says that the conservatives look to the October election much as loafers look to the ringing of a dinner-bell. They know that it indicates dinner, but not tor them.

VIRGINIA .- The Petersburg Index, which is as rebellious as it can be, indorses the call for the Philadelphia Convention, and says:—"There is Philadelphia Convention, and says.— Red is scarcely a syllable in the call which we would care to see altered." The Richmond Despatch wants an early meeting at that city to elect delegates to the Convention. A meeting was held at Augusta on the 26th ult., which protested against the Constitutional amendment, and declared the Congress an unlawful body. It also thanked Andrew Johnson for his "wisdom" and "courage," and resolved that it is better for Virginia to stay out of Congress than to enter it by adopting this measure.

Louisiana .- A telegram from New Orleans, June 27, announces a caucus of the members of the Convention of 1864. Judge Durell was asked to preside, but refused. Judge Howell, President pro. tem., was authorized to consult with the Governor about assembling a Convention. A proclamation is expected for assembling the latter part of July. The telegram adds:— The object of the Convention is, undoubtedly, to ratify the Constitutional amendment,

MICHIGAN.-The Michigan office-holders and wire-workers are in a ferment over the redistri-bution of the offices in that State. It is said that Henry Baras, of the Advertiser and Tribune, has been promised the Post Office at Detroit. Hezekiah Wells is talked of for Republican candidate for Governer. Onegon .- A California paper says that the notorious John B. Weller has changed his California speech so as to suit the latitude of Oregon, and is delivering it in behalf of the Copperheads of that State. He is accompanied by one or two of the lesser lights of the Golden State.

NEVADA.—General Nye is a candidate for re-election to the Senate, and James A. Banks and Charles DeLong are competing candidates.
